

A NEXUS affiliate since 2015, David is based in Marlton, NJ and has been working in the real estate industry for seventeen years. Currently Vice President of Sales & Marketing for National Integrity Title Agency, he began his career in mortgage lending and in 2009, made the move over to the title side of the business.

He not only focuses on helping clients complete their transactions, he is passionate about finding ways to use technology and forward-thinking strategies to provide support in new and innovative ways.

A Key Contributor to the Young Professionals Network

David became involved with the NEXUS Young Professionals Network (YPN), first as a committee member, and in 2015 was elected Committee Co-Chair as the YPN was re-launching to better serve Association members. In the five years he has been involved with the committee, he has worked to freshen and re-invigorate YPN's offerings, and in 2016 and 2018 he served as the committee's Chair. As Chair, he led the team that created the Rising Star program and the development of new education and networking opportunities. While the pandemic has pushed pause on in-person events, the committee remains hard at work finding new ways, such as the recent Four-Part Social Media Webinar Series, to continue their mission.

In 2016 and in 2018, he was named NEXUS Affiliate of the Year for his hard work and dedication.

Injecting Technology Into an Age-Old Process

While title insurance work has never been as the "sexiest" part of the industry, David and the team at National Integrity Title Agency are focused on finding ways to use technology to improve the settlement process, and the ways they communicate with their clients. One of their missions is to bring the world of title searching and insuring into our more technology-focused world. Their use of cutting-edge document tracking technology, their high-tech, in-house "Closing Café", and soon, even the use of AI, is all meant to provide exceptional customer service and help to create a seamless settlement process.

National Integrity Title Agency offers a full range of title and settlement related services to REALTORS®, lenders, attorneys, builders, developers, borrowers, and buyers and work with deals on residential, commercial, and vacant land properties.
